

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

"Public interest," for those who choose to feign ignorance of the notion, includes considering what the public needs to know to live in a free and independent democracy. The proposed rollback for media ownership regulations is antithetical to the intentions of the creation of the FRC and FCC.
